

Premature Babies

Information for parents & whānau of premature pēpi

When your baby is born more than 3 weeks before their due date, they're called a premature baby

Learn about what extra support your baby might need if they are premature

Learn about some of the things premature babies experience

Find out about some of the medicines they may need

KidsHealth

KidsHealth diabetes content has been developed and approved by the Clinical Network for Children and Young People with Diabetes, Paediatric Society of New Zealand

Scan the QR code with your phone to view website content

